Internet Civics Education Courses

iCivics, founded and led by Justice Sandra Day O'Connor, offers relevant TEKS-aligned lessons, K-12, which are organized into 15, easy-to-use curriculum units. Each lesson incorporates lesson plans and optional assessments, games, web quests, and drafting board topics. The site requires users to register at no cost. Resources can be accessed at: <http://www.icivics.org/teachers>

Law-Related Education, the State Bar of Texas provides TEKS-aligned, K-12 civics lessons. Spanish language materials are also available. Additional resources can be accessed at: <http://texaslre.org/lre-lessons/>

Project V.O.T.E. hosted by the Texas Secretary of State, provides puzzles and games designed to help students become knowledgeable, responsible voters. It also includes a guide for a gubernatorial mock election for 2018. Resources are at <http://www.sos.state.tx.us/elections/projectvote/index.html>
